

3D Marvels

A Star Jewellery unveils its new collection MATRIX Bijoux for IJJS this year. Based on the latest technology that redefines the entire process of product development, the collection is a visual feast of stunning geometry. Every piece crafted is a complex 3D form; an intricate grid work of fine detailing and layering that is near impossible to replicate through conventional manufacturing. The collection, comprising earrings, pendant and ring sets in 18-karat yellow and pink gold accented with diamonds, is big on look but at the same time extremely lightweight and affordable. Enhance your party ensemble with this ultra-modern glitter!

Eclectic Grandeur

And Shah, an acclaimed, award-winning jewellery designer, who is known to create wearable works of art, showcases his new collection that depicts quintessential modernity with a hint of traditional elements. The new collection features pieces that are crafted using modern techniques with glass and gemstones set in 22-karat gold. The jewellery, inspired by nature, is three-dimensional and comes alive with unique textures and treatments. Such opulent
