Asian Star

Committed to Excellence

responsibly and sustainably, from rough diamonds sourcing to meeting product commitments. We work relentlessly to deliver value that goes beyond the extraordinary beauty of our diamonds and diamond jewellery.

Our rough diamonds are obtained directly from major mining companies and processed at our own cutting and polishing facilities, allowing us to control the integrity of our diamonds. These diamonds are then transformed into magnificent jewellery at our cutting-edge jewellery manufacturing facilities under the supervision of our skilled designers and craftsmen. Manufacturing in-house provides us the advantage of ensuring product quality and timely availability.

Furthermore, we adhere to the highest standards of ethical business practices by conforming to Responsible Jewellery Council's Code of Practices and ISO 9001: 2015, which is certified by TUV NORD.

Our infrastructure is home to innovative craftsmanship

Asian Star's commitment to delivering excellence is supported by a solid foundation of cutting-edge infrastructure, superior knowledge, and craftsmanship that thrives on innovation. We have world-class diamond processing and jewellery production facilities in Mumbai, Hosur, and Surat.

Our diamond cutting and polishing facility at Surat spans 100,000 square feet and is home to a team of qualified and skilled artisans that relentlessly demonstrate their art of consistency by crafting the best polished makes from rough diamonds.

ASIAN STAR

Our manufacturing facilities for diamond jewellery span 75,000 square feet between Mumbai, Hosur, and Surat, with 30,000 square feet at SEEPZ, Mumbai, devoted solely to international business. They specialise in the mass production of machine-made jewellery as well as handcrafted bespoke jewellery, with a dedicated R&D centre for developing innovative products. The flexibility and scalability of our operations allow us to control and modify our production to satisfy the requirements of our customers.

We also excel in creating price point diamond jewellery using innovative illusion settings, such as star illusion plate and fancy shape illusion. Our necklace sets, in particular, are very popular for their value proposition in terms of both design and price.

In addition to custom-made jewellery with patented settings, our jewellery portfolio offers private labels and premium jewellery through collaborations with designer brands. We also provide diamond settings for branded watches, including custom made Bezels.
