Three generations in the business

Strong relationships with top retail chains and brands in the world, some of which span decades

INNOVATION

Innovation does not always mean doing new things. Innovation also means doing the same things differently to deliver higher efficiency and better results.

At Asian Star, we are constantly endeavouring to push the limits by re-inventing not only products and processes, but also our approach and orientation. We have always believed in adapting and evolving to meet the ever-changing external environment and industry dynamics.

DOING IT RIGHT. AND DIFFERENTLY.

Professional organisation where openness and transparency are paramount drives Asian Star. In an industry that was dominated by tightly-held, proprietorship businesses, we decided to do things differently. We were among the first in the industry to become transparent and open by getting publicly listed in 1996. We are amongst the handful of Indian diamantaires with a listing on the Bombay Stock Exchange. We have always endeavoured to follow the best-practices in compliance, transparency and professionalism, sharing our success with all the stakeholders. It is this transformation to an organised and professional entity that has stood us apart in the competitive landscape. It created a solid platform of trust and reliability, making us the preferred supplier partner to the top global retailers and brands.

Ensuring consistency and developing different, innovative products are key to product differentiation. The 'Asian Star Make' is today almost a brand in itself. We are well-known and stand apart for our cuts. We have developed a niche by creating innovative and special cuts in even the smallest sized diamonds, and special diamond settings in diamond jewellery that are lightweight, yet look big, at relatively affordable prices. We have reduced manufacturing time-lines by 50 per cent and moved towards a zero-defect product by re-engineering and proto-production processes.

Changing our business orientation to become customer-centric and service-focused showcases our adaptability to change. Adding this service-focus to product-focus required a transformation in the approach and orientation of the entire Company, and not only the manufacturing division. Today, every division and function at Asian Star is aligned to customer needs, and it is this re-orientation that made us transverse the gap from being a vendor to a business partner for our customers.

THINK DIFFERENT. DO DIFFERENTLY.

CEO AND MD'S MESSAGE

"We have always believed that enduring success and excellence comes from Doing right things. Right."

Vipul P. Shah

DEAR SHAREHOLDERS,

It is always a pleasure and a privilege to share with you how the year fared and the outlook for the future is.

It is an exciting time for companies in India; the new government has unleashed a slew of structural reforms that have revived confidence, re-vitalized growth. From banking to insurance to defence to infrastructure, all core sectors of the economy have witnessed wide ranging reforms in 2014-15. The path-breaking 'Make in India' initiative is a long-term, directional programme that will boost manufacturing in India, taking it leaps ahead both in terms of quality as well as quantity. In line with international practices, the Central Statistics Organisation changed the GDP calculation method to market price from factor cost. Also, the base year for measuring the GDP has changed to 2011-12 from 2004-05. The combined effect of reforms and revision of GDP methodology resulted in GDP growth at 7.3 per cent for 2014-15, compared to 6.9 per cent in 2013-14, as per Indian Economic Survey 2014-15. The total Indian GDP crossed US$ 2 trillion for the first time.

Globally, growth remained moderate at 3.4 per cent owing to challenging economical and geo-political situation in the Middle East and Ukraine. The continued uncertainty of how the government in Greece tackles the debt-repayment issue - whether Greece chooses to opt out of the European Union - kept financial markets unsure. However, there was a more than expected improvement in the USA, driven by improvement in jobs as well as consumer spending.

The Gems and Jewellery industry faced multiple challenges in 2014. These included falling demand in China, unrest in the Middle East, declining European market and weakening Russian rouble. In spite of these adverse conditions, the industry continued with consistent efforts to reach out to new markets through global trade fairs and buyer-seller meets. Due to these efforts, the overall gross exports of gems and jewellery for 2014-15 was US$ 39.89 billion, marginally lower by 0.62 per cent in dollar terms but showing a growth of 0.43 per cent in rupee term. The gross exports for cut and polished diamonds in 2014-15 was US$ 23.16 billion compared to US$ 24.49 billion in the previous year, a decline of 5.46 per cent, whereas exports for gold jewellery showed growth of 17.77 per cent at US$ 9.85 billion.

The industry is expecting to reverse this trend in the short term, by aligning the industry's thrust areas with the 'Make in India' initiative of the government and by working with diamond mining companies to promote diamonds and diamond jewellery at a generic level. Another important trend that has emerged is the growing acceptance of online jewellery purchase, which is really part of the larger phenomenon of increasing dominance of e-commerce in the country.

At Asian Star, even though the last twelve months were challenging, we were able to overcome these with our sustained and focussed efforts. We have always believed that enduring success and excellence comes from DOING RIGHT THINGS. RIGHT. In our business particularly, the top four factors that ensure enduring success are Customer Satisfaction, Human Resources, Core Competencies and Innovation. It is this focus that drove both strategy and execution, and ensured that in spite of a challenging year, we were able to maintain our performance.

Our consolidated turnover for the year was Rs. 3,225 crores compared to Rs. 3,250 crores in the previous year, a marginal drop of 0.77 per cent. The diamond business for the year was Rs. 2,749 crores against Rs. 2,768 crores in the previous year, a drop of 0.69 per cent, and the jewellery business contributed Rs. 467 crores compared to Rs. 476 crores in the previous year, a reduction of 1.89 per cent.

In spite of pressure on topline, we were able to deliver marked improvements in margins. For the year, Profit before Tax (PBT) increased to Rs. 101 crores compared to Rs. 97 crores in the previous year, an improvement of 4.12 per cent. Profit after Tax (PAT) increased to Rs. 82 crores against Rs. 78 crores in the previous year, an improvement of 5.13 per cent.

The outlook for the forthcoming year is positive and optimistic. Optimism is highest in the USA and India, while in China expectations are that growth will pick up as the year progresses. The world's largest diamond market, USA, is forecast to continue moving ahead on its economic recovery. The sustained improvement in consumer confidence is expected to maintain momentum and could boost growth in demand for diamonds. In India, the government is focused and determined to maintain its thrust on Gems and Jewellery as a focal area for exports. The government is discussing a plan to set up a special zone with tax benefits for diamond import and trading in Mumbai, to try and develop the country's financial capital as a competitor to Antwerp and Dubai, which are currently trading hubs for the precious stone. The Gems and Jewellery Skill Council of India is planning to train over four million persons till 2022 as the sector is facing shortage of skilled manpower. All these developments strongly signal a brighter 2015.

I thank you all for your sustained trust and support and assure you we will continue with our philosophy and culture of DOING RIGHT THINGS. RIGHT.

Yours Sincerely,

Vipul P. Shah

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

The Global economy witnessed divergent trends among various economies across the globe. Growth in most economies of the world still remains protracted, recovery is subdued and prospects remain challenging. The year 2014 saw the world output maintained at 3.4 per cent, similar to 2013, according to World Economic Outlook released in April 2015 by the International Monetary Fund (IMF). According to the Global Economic Prospects published by the World Bank (WB) in January 2015, the global real GDP grew marginally to 2.6 per cent in 2014, compared to 2.4 per cent in the previous year.

Overall, there is a glimmer of optimism in the air as global growth appears to be turning for the better. While there was a marked pickup in growth in the advanced economies, growth slowed down in the emerging markets and developing economies. However, despite this slowdown, emerging markets and developing economies still accounted for around seventy-five per cent of global growth in 2014. In the USA, there was a stronger than expected growth, driven by increase in consumption, which was in turn, driven by steady rise in job creation and low oil prices, particularly in the latter half of the year. According to IMF, the output of US increased to 2.4 per cent in 2014, compared to 2.2 per cent in 2013. The ongoing geo-political crisis in Ukraine and uncertainty over whether Greece would opt out of the EU was the key factors contributing to weakness in growth in Europe. However, there was a ray of optimism during the fourth quarter as low oil prices triggered higher consumption.

For the two engines of growth in Asia, namely China and India, the year 2014 was a contrasting year : in China, growth slowed down to its lowest in the last twenty four year, while in India, the new government ushered in bold structural reforms. The Chinese economy grew at 7.4 per cent in 2014, its lowest since 1990, missing the government's target of 7.5 per cent. After three decades of double digit growth, this has been termed as a natural slowdown.

India's economy is poised for recovery and may return to its high growth path. India's macro-economic environment has improved across various parameters compared to the previous fiscal 2014, with low stable inflation, benign commodity prices, lower fiscal and current account deficit, higher foreign exchange reserves and a stable currency. As per revised methodology adopted by Central Statistical Organisation, India's GDP for 2014-15 grew at 7.3 per cent compared to 6.9 per cent in 2013-14. Also, this is the first time that India's GDP crossed US$ 2.1 trillion in absolute terms. The new government with strong political mandate has initiated reforms in core sectors like banking, insurance, infrastructure and defence. The monetary policy has been overhauled. The Reserve Bank of India has also changed its stance and has reduced repo rate by 0.50% in the last quarter. With more clarity in government policies, relaxation in various procedures and fast project clearances, there is a rejuvenated optimism among corporates and industrialists amid improved sentiments and confidence level among bankers and investors.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Global Gems and Jewellery Industry

The year 2014-15 was yet another challenging year for the global Gems and Jewellery Industry as it continued to be affected by the over-arching macro factors – economic and geopolitical. The industry has been facing liquidity crunch like never before. With increasing cases of default, banks worldwide have become more careful about lending to the industry. They have been forced to become stricter and more selective in extending credit. Many reputed banks have withdrawn/curtailed their exposure to the industry creating upheaval in the market, with far-reaching consequences.

The USA continues to be a key market with largest market share. The past year was a record one for the US jewellery market, with the demand touching a record $78.08 billion. With continued improvement in the US economy, consumers are more confident and are willing to spend more on jewellery. Growth in Euro zone remained subdued with continued uncertainty, particularly due to crises in Ukraine and Greece. This had a huge impact on consumer sentiments. This was, to an extent, balanced out with growth in Asia-Pacific and the Middle East. India and China continue to be chief drivers of growth in the Asia-Pacific region with steady rise in demand in line with the growing incomes, particularly of the middle-class. Another factor driving demand in this region is the rapid growth in urban population that is increasingly being exposed to, and becoming aware of, variety of jewellery and latest trends in the market leading to an overall rise in spend. This trend is expected to continue in the near and mid-term.

According to "Global Gems & Jewellery Market Forecast & Opportunities, 2019", The global Gems and Jewellery market is expected to grow at a CAGR of about 6 per cent during 2014-19.

The Indian Gems and Jewellery Industry

India has a rich history and legacy of gems and jewellery. Over centuries, the country has developed a special niche in diamond-cutting and polishing, with an expertise and skill pool stretch across centuries and generations.

Today, the Gems and Jewellery industry is a critical part of the Indian economy with a contribution of 6-7 per cent to the national GDP. The industry also contributes significantly to the foreign exchange earnings of the country, besides being a key employment generator. According to Gems & Jewellery

Export Promotion Council (GJEPC), Gems and Jewellery account for nearly 13 per cent of India's merchandise exports. The overall value of Gems and Jewellery exports for 2014-15 was US$ 39.89 billion against US$ 40.14 billion in the previous year falling marginally by 0.6 per cent. However, in Rupee terms, exports rose by 0.4 per cent to Rs. 243,885 crores against Rs. 242,837 crores in the previous year. This is a commendable performance, considering the challenging global economic environment.

Cut and Polished Diamonds

India enjoys unique advantages in this field owing to its long tradition and continued expertise. It is the largest centre for cutting and polishing diamonds in the world. Over the last few years, the industry has steadily moved up, building upon its capacities and capabilities. It has successfully made a transition from smaller cuts to specialised cuts. Today, it offers the unique advantage of cost effectiveness, assured quality, fine make and quick turn-around times.

During the year 2014-15, exports of cut and polished diamonds fell by 5.46 per cent to US$ 23.16 billion compared to US$ 24.49 billion in the previous year. In volume terms, 345.35 lakh carat were exported in FY2014 against 365.99 lakh carat in the previous year, a decline of 5.64 per cent. Against this, the import of rough diamonds during the period April-March 2015 increased nominally by 0.15 per cent to US$ 16.74 billion compared to US$ 16.71 billion in the previous year. In terms of volume, however, there was a decline of 9.06 per cent in 2014-15 with a total of 1473.41 lakh carats imported compared to 1620.17 lakh carats in FY2014.

Jewellery

Jewellery has been one of the most exciting segment of the Gems and Jewellery industry. The segment witnessed impressive growth during the year. According to GJEPC, exports of gold jewellery during the year 2014-15 was US$ 9.85 billion compared to US$ 8.36 billion in the previous year, registering a rise of 17.7 per cent. This spectacular performance is a reflection of the sustained marketing, branding and promotional efforts by the industry, not to mention its ever-improving design and manufacturing excellence.

According to a report by Research and Markets, the Jewelry Market in India is expected to grow at a CAGR of 15.95 per cent over the period 2014-2019. The sector is witnessing changes in consumer preferences and buying habits. The industry is going through a transformation from being an 'investment buy' to a 'fashion statement' with increasing preference for branded jewellery. Growing population of youth, working women and middle class with increasing disposable income is driving the demand for diamond jewellery.

FINANCIAL OVERVIEW

Notwithstanding the fact that there were significant challenges both in the international markets as well as domestically, the Company has performed satisfactorily during the year. While the difficult operating environment pressurized the top-line, the Company has done well to improve its margins. This has been achieved with the Company's approach, strategy and mind-set of DOING RIGHT THINGS RIGHT. By strategically focussing on the top success factors and channelling unrelenting efforts on each of these, the Company has been able to sustain its financial performance.

The Company's consolidated turnover for the year 2014-15 was Rs. 3,225 crores compared to Rs. 3,250 crores in the previous year, indicating a marginal decline of 0.77 per cent. The diamond business for the year was Rs.2,749 crores against Rs. 2,768 crores in the previous year, declining by 0.69 per cent, and the diamond jewellery business for the year was Rs. 467 crores compared to Rs. 476 crores in the previous year, dropping by 1.89 per cent.

In spite of stress on the top-line, there was a clear improvement in margins. Profit before Tax (PBT) for the year increased to Rs. 101 crores compared to Rs. 97 crores in the previous year, an improvement of 4.12 per cent. Profit after Tax (PAT) for the year increased to Rs. 82 crores against Rs. 78 crores in the previous year, an improvement of 5.13 per cent.

FUTURE OUTLOOK

According to the World Economic Outlook published by the International Monetary Fund (IMF) in April 2015, global growth is projected to increase moderately to 3.5 per cent in 2015 compared to 3.4 per cent in 2014, and further increase to 3.8 per cent in 2016. This improvement will be driven by revival in advanced economies supported by lower oil prices.

In the US, growth is expected to pick up to over 3 per cent in 2015-16 led by improved demand due to steady improvement in employment opportunity, encouraging housing data, growing stock markets, favourable oil prices as well as support in the form of accommodative monetary policies. In the Euro Area too, growth is expected to gather momentum in 2015 and 2016 to 1.5 and 1.6 per cent respectively.

In India, there is a renewed sense of optimism and positivity. The structural reforms undertaken by the government in the core sectors are likely to have positive long-term impact on the overall economy. New foreign trade policy unveiled by the government provides a framework to boost export of goods and services, generation of employment keeping in line with the "Make in India" campaign launched by the Government.

Both the IMF and the World Bank have predicted the Indian economy to grow at a minimum of 7.5 per cent for the next two years. In fact, the World Bank, in its India Development Update, has estimated the Indian growth rate at 7.9 per cent in FY 2017 and 8 per cent in FY 2018.

For Gems and Jewellery Industry, year 2015 is expected to be better than the past year. The US, which is the largest global jewellery market in the world, is expected to see a consistent growth. Demand from Middle East region has started showing signs of improvement. While, China is also expected to improve with growing HNIs despite slowdown in overall economic growth. South America is emerging as a market with high potential with growing appetite for diamond jewellery in countries like Argentina, Chile, Uruguay, Colombia and Ecuador.

India is witnessing consistent economic growth which is enhancing employment and business opportunities and in turn increasing disposable incomes. A recent study by the McKinsey Global Institute suggests that if India continues to grow at the current pace, average household incomes will triple over the next two decades and it will become the world's 5th-largest consumer. The middle class with its rising numbers and incomes is becoming the biggest market segment. The affluent class too will continue to grow in terms of size and value, albeit, at a slower pace than the middle class. The government of India has declared the sector as a focus area for export promotion based on its potential for growth and value addition. The government has recently undertaken various measures to promote investments and to upgrade technology and skills to promote brand India in the International market. Looking at the holistic picture, the overall outlook for the industry is very promising.

OPPORTUNITIES

Growing Demand In Key Markets

USA

USA continues to dominate the Gems and Jewellery industry as it is the largest diamond market in the world. The economy in the country has been steadily picking up, notably in the last quarter of 2014-15 as consumption increased significantly driven by low oil prices. Besides, the other important factor – employment, has also been rising. This is likely to have a positive impact on the overall demand for diamond jewellery, particularly in the sub-segment of engagement rings. Engagement rings is the largest segment of the entire US diamond jewellery industry, and accounts for over half of the total market.

China

After the US, China is the second largest diamond market in the world. Rising income levels over the last few years have transformed the jewellery market in China. The rapidly growing middle class with high disposable income and a higher aspirational level is the key driver for the surge in demand for diamond jewellery.

According to a research by WealthInsight, there has been an increase by 52.8 percent in the number of high net worth individuals (HNWI) in China between 2010 and 2014. WealthInsight forecasts that the number of Chinese millionaires is set to double and reach 2.2 million by 2019, while wealth is expected to grow by 75.9 percent, to reach $9.5 trillion by the same year. This augurs well for the industry and the surge in demand from China is expected to pick up pace in the near and mid-term.

India

Demand for diamond jewellery in India is expected to continue to rise, chiefly driven by the rapidly growing middle-class with higher disposable incomes. India has one of the best demographics dynamics in the world, with around 66 per cent of its population being under the age of 35. The Indian economy is emerging as the fastest growing economy in the world and is forecast to maintain a high growth rate in the near and mid-term. The middle-class, particularly the youth, are confident and aspirational, not holding back as far as discretionary spends are concerned. They are increasingly spending higher amounts on leisure and lifestyle.

On Line Retailing

During the last two years, there has been an unprecedented explosion in the e-commerce space in India. A combination of internet penetration, surge in usage of smart devices and dramatic improvement in delivery have unleashed the true potential of e-commerce in the country. The traditional brick-and-mortar businesses are fast adapting to the click-based and tap-based models with extending their physical presence into the digital space. The jeweller business has also been benefitted by the online retail revolution as major retailers and brands are now discovering the immense potential and advantages of digital media making it possible to exponentially expand their footprint and brand presence, with minimal costs and time lags. The online retail segment is expected to continue growing, auguring well for the industry.

India as a New Trading and Sourcing hub

With a view to make India a key trading and sourcing hub for diamonds, The Ministry of Commerce is actively considering setting up of a Special Notified Zone (SNZ). This special zone will provide the much needed thrust to the diamond industry allowing duty free movement of goods by miners across the world. They can bring rough on consignment basis, display to local buyers, conduct regular auction of roughs and take back unsold quantity without any levy of tax. This will encourage international mining companies to sell their rough diamonds directly in India giving the Indian diamond industry a strong competitive advantage over other diamond trading centres of the world and will also ensure a steady supply of rough diamonds in India.

RISKS, THREATS AND CONCERNS

Depleting Old Mines

Majority of the global output of rough diamonds comes from top nine producer countries - Russia, Botswana, DRC, Australia, Canada, Zimbabwe, Angola, South Africa and Namibia. The major diamond mines in all these countries are now past their peak level production. Explorations in the last few years have not been very successful in finding any major new mines. Depleting reserves has led to increased pressure on the existing mines to cater to the increasing demand across the globe for diamonds. With the local beneficiation programme in the mining countries, an increasing portion is retained for local processing units further affecting the supplies to Indian Industry.

Asian Star is amongst the few companies who have contractual rough supply from major miners in the world. The Company also has alternative direct sources of rough supply, and thus is assured of continuous supply of rough at competitive price.

Synthetic Diamonds

With Sophiscated technology and years of research it is possible to make diamonds which are near identical to the natural diamonds. It is difficult to differentiate between natural and synthetic diamonds. These diamonds poses a risk of being a cheaper substitute of natural diamond. Various instances of mixing of synthetic diamonds with natural diamonds have been reported. This poses a greater risk of undermining consumer confidence and affecting the perception of the industry.

Industry has taken various pro active measures to safeguards against the threat of synthetic diamonds. Technically advanced instruments have been developed which have been successful in detecting them. Various initiatives have been taken by diamond producers, manufacturers and trade bodies to create awareness about synthetic diamonds. Proper disclosure at all levels of value chain and use of equipments to detect the undisclosed synthetic diamonds have been encouraged to boost consumer confidence.

Liquidity Crunch

Being a capital intensive industry, financing is crucial for various segments of the diamond value chain. Industry growth has been backed by bank financing. Following the economic slowdown, since 2012, the diamond banks, serving the industry for decades, faced several cases of loan defaults. The ratio of non-performing loans to total assets has been on rise. These have led banks to become more conservative and selective, tighten controls and apply stringent criteria. Various banks have either reduced or curtailed their exposure to the industry. This has created severe liquidity crunch having adverse impact on the performance, growth and profitability.

Finance is a key function at Asian Star and is being managed by strong team of experienced professionals. Liquidity has never been an issue for the Company. It has ratings/rankings among the top in the industry assigned by CARE and Dun & Bradstreet. It enjoys sustained confidence of bankers as one of the preferred customers.

An Impairment loss is charged to the profit and loss statement in the year in which the asset is identified as impaired. The impairment loss recognised in prior accounting period is reversed if there has been a change in the estimate of recoverable amount.

F. Foreign Currency Transactions

F.1 Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are recorded at the Exchange rate prevailing at the time of the transaction.

F.2 Monetary items denominated in foreign currencies at the year end are translated at year end exchange rate and the resultant exchange differences are recognised in the profit and loss statement.

In case of option contracts, the premium paid and gain / loss are recognized as exchange difference on the date of settlement of the contract. Mark to market loss, if any, is recognized as exchange difference at the year end.

F.4 Non monetary foreign currency items are carried at cost.

Cost includes cost of material and related conversion cost. In view of the nature of variation in the values of individual diamonds and the differential in their processing costs, it is not practicable to compute the cost of polished diamonds using either FIFO or weighted average cost. In view of the numerous grades, it is not practicable to use specific costs. The method of valuation is therefore in compliance with "AS2" issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India to the extent practicable.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A. Basis for Preparation of Financial Statements

The financial statements have been prepared using mercantile system of accounting under the historical cost convention. It recognises significant items of income and expenditure on accrual basis. The accounts have been prepared to comply in all material aspects with applicable accounting principles in India and the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

B. Sales

Income from the sale of diamonds / jewellery is recognised when the sale has been completed with the passing of the title. Income from sale of wind energy is recognised on its transmission and delivery. Sales includes sale of goods and services and gain/loss on exchange fluctuations.

C. Other Income

Interest

Interest income is recognised on accrual basis.

Income from Investments

Income from investment is accounted in the year in which the unconditional right to receive such income is established.

D. Depreciation

Depreciation on Fixed Assets is provided based on useful life of the assets as prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 on straight line basis. Depreciation of Asian Star Co. Ltd., New York and Asian Star DMCC, Dubai has been provided on Straight Line Basis.

E. Impairment of Assets

An asset is treated as impaired when the carrying cost of assets exceeds its recoverable value. An Impairment loss is charged to the profit and loss account in the year in which the asset is identified as impaired. The impairment loss recognised in prior accounting period is reversed if there has been a change in the estimate of recoverable amount.

F. Foreign Currency Transactions

F.1 Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rate prevailing at the time of the transaction.

F.2 Monetary items denominated in foreign currencies at the year-end are translated at year-end exchange rate and the resultant exchange differences are recognised in the profit and loss statement.

F.3 The Company enters into forward / option contracts for hedging purpose. In case of forward contracts, the difference between the year end rate and rate on the date of contract is recognised as exchange difference. The proportionate difference between the forward rate and the exchange rate on the date of transaction is recognised over the life of the contract. In case of option contracts, the premium paid and gain / loss are recognized as exchange difference on the date of settlement of the contract. Mark to market loss, if any, is recognized as exchange difference at the year end.

F.4 Non monetary foreign currency items are carried at cost.

F.5 Any income or expense on account of exchange difference either on settlement or on translation is adjusted to the profit and loss account except in cases where they relate to acquisition of fixed assets in which case they are adjusted to the carrying cost of such assets.

G. Fixed Assets

Cost of Fixed Assets comprises of purchase price, duties, levies and any cost directly attributable to bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Fixed Assets are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation.

H. Capital Work in Progress

Capital work in progress comprises of cost of acquisition of assets, duties, levies and any cost directly attributable to bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Expenditure incurred on project under implementation is treated as incidental expenditure incurred during construction and is pending allocation to the assets which will be allocated / apportioned on completion of the project.

I. Borrowing Costs

All borrowing costs, which are of revenue nature, are charged to Profit and Loss Account.

J. Investments

J.1 Long term investments are valued at cost. Provision for diminution in value is made only if such diminution is otherwise than temporary in the opinion of the management.

J.2 Current Investments - Quoted are valued at cost or market value, whichever is lower.

K. Inventories

K.1 Stock of raw materials is stated at weighted average cost or net realizable value whichever is lower. Stock of polished diamonds (for jewellery operations) is valued at technically evaluated cost or net realizable value whichever is lower. Specific items of cost are allocated and assigned to inventory wherever practicable.

K.2 Work in Process and Finished goods are valued at technically evaluated cost or estimated net realizable value, whichever is lower. Cost includes cost of material and related conversion cost. In view of the nature of variation in the values of individual diamonds and the differential in their processing costs, it is not practicable to compute the cost of polished diamonds using either FIFO or weighted average cost. In view of the numerous grades, it is not practicable to use specific costs. The method of valuation is therefore in compliance with "AS2" issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India to the extent practicable.

K.3 Consumables are valued at cost.
